

As long as men fly...
wherever they begin their journey through space...
Their flights began in Dayton, Ohio
The Birthplace of Aviation

You are cordially invited to the 2016 Aviation Trail, Inc. Trailblazer Awards

Our honorees
National Museum of the United States Air Force and the
Air Force Museum Foundation

April 15, 2016

Hope Hotel & Richard C. Holbrooke Conference Center
10823 Chidlaw Road - Bldg. #823, Area A
W-PAFB, Fairborn, Ohio - Route 444
Enter Gate 12A, turn right before the Guard-gate and proceed to the hotel.

This Aviation Trail, Inc. Trailblazer Ceremony commemorates Wilbur Wright's 169th birthday (April 16, 1867) and has been held annually since 1983. AT¹, an all-volunteer organization, has a 35-year history of promoting and supporting the area's aviation heritage.

Please join the Aviation Trail, Inc. Board of Trustees as we proudly present these Awards to the Museum for its long history of excellence in the telling of the story of man's conquest of the air and to the Foundation for its efforts in promotions and fundraising achievements to make the fourth museum building possible.
